On a sad note we have lost a long time Whisperwood guest, John (Jack) Del Favero in September from lung cancer. Jack always came in June with his long time friend and fishing buddy Frank Quagliaroli. Jack was a veterinarian and owned the Springfield Animal Hospital in Springfield MA.

I will never forget the first year I met them both. Our first year (2000) as new owners surprised the regular guests since they didn't know Whisperwood had been sold. With this in mind some guests were a little put off with this surprise. To put it bluntly a lot were mad but seemed willing to give us a chance. Jack and Frank were among this group. I was so green as a business owner and these men both being staunch Italians scared the heck out of me. Well let me tell you the following year was going to be different. I was determined to dish up a "big heaping of honey", being Italian myself I know the way to get to them was through their stomach. Well, by the time they left we were all laughing with big hugs and looking forward to next year. Writing this puts tears in my eyes and as I remember Jack's last visit was in June when he gave me a hug and said this probably will be the last time I would see him.

I will miss him dearly.

If any of you have a story or picture that you would like to share please send them to Doug.

Thank you again for visiting us for the 2008 season.
